KILLING SUSPECT IS NAMED

FLASHBACK: How the Star reported Garry Lodge's death in 2004

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertssexnews.co.uk

THE prime suspect in a seven-year-old unsolved killing which was featured on the BBC's Crimewatch programme has been named at an inquest.

Victim Garry Lodge (31), of Shawbridge, Harlow, was knifed four times in an alleyway near Willowfield in June 2004 following an alleged row over a £5 drug debt.

Although he recovered from emergency surgery to his abdomen, he was re-admitted to hospital on November 8. His condition worsened and he died a month later from peritonitis caused by a leak at a surgical join and an obstruction in his intestine, all due to one of the stab wounds.

Mr Lodge's parents Charles and Christine and two of his sisters attended the inquest at Chelmsford Coroner Court last Wednesday during which Detective Chief Superintendent Gareth Wilson outlined the details of how the police investigation into an assault turned into a murder inquiry which centred on suspect Michael Williams, also known as Joseph Kuponipe.

DCS Williams said that in 2005, the Crown Prosecution Service advised there was insufficient "tangible" evidence from witnesses to secure a successful conviction.

But he assured the family and Essex coroner Caroline Beasley-Murray: "We never close an investigation into someone's death in such circumstances."

He said the investigation remained under review and, if independent evidence materialised, it would be looked into immediately.

The inquest was told that at about 11am on June 14, Mr Lodge was involved in an altercation at the rear of the garage block at Willowfield.

He later told police that he was confronted by two men – one white and the other black – who demanded money off him.

He said he saw the black man holding a four-inch blade and was stabbed in the buttock and then the lower back.

From his hospital bed, he told police he didn't know the two men or what the money issue was about.

DCS Wilson, now with the Kent and Essex Serious Crime Directorate, told the inquest that initially the assault was investigated as an incident of grievous bodily harm.

But what began as a GBH investigation became a murder inquiry following Mr Lodge's death and the stabbing was featured on Crimewatch in June 2005, with a picture of the suspect.

DCS Wilson said a friend of Mr Lodge – Shaun Anglim, who lived in Willowfield – claimed to have met him that morning.

When they parted, Mr Lodge went through a gap in the fence near the garages and Mr Anglim heard shouting and saw Mr Lodge and a black man fighting.

He said Mr Anglim saw the man pull out a knife and stab Mr Lodge. Mr Anglim's girlfriend, Vicky Watson, was looking out of a window and saw him running away.

DCS Wilson said the police suspect, Michael Williams from Stoke Newington, fitted the description of the attacker, but the knife was never found and the Crown Prosecution Service advised that there was insufficient evidence to secure a successful conviction.

The coroner recorded a verdict that Mr Lodge was unlawfully killed.

Mr Lodge's funeral was held on February 7, 2005, after an interim certificate was issued following his death.

With the inquest complete, his family will now be able to officially register his death.

Speaking after the inquest, Mr Lodge's father said: "We think of Garry every day.

"He was a lovely boy and we have many fond memories. We are really pleased that the investigation will continue to hopefully bring somebody to justice."

Witnesses sought to alleged rape attack

DETECTIVES investigating the alleged rape of a young woman in Harlow on Saturday morning have appealed for potential witnesses to come forward.

The alleged victim – a 24-year-old woman from Yorkshire – claims she was sexually assaulted near the junction of Fifth Avenue and First Avenue at around 4am, and investigating officers now want to speak to anyone who was in the area at that time. Police arrived at the scene shortly after the attack was said to have taken place and cordoned off the residential area between Netteswell Drive and the Fifth Avenue underpass, which remained off-limits to the public throughout the weekend.

A 23-year-old Harlow man was arrested in connection with the alleged attack shortly before 12pm on Saturday and was questioned at Harlow Police Station before being released on bail until November 21.

The woman is staying with family members in Harlow after being interviewed by specially-trained officers at the county's Sexual Assault Referral Centre.

Anyone with any information regarding the alleged incident is urged to contact detectives at Harlow police station on 101 (0300 333 4444 from outside Essex) or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

BLOCK: Police cordoned off the Fifth Avenue underpass on Saturday

Crime rate down by four per cent

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

POLICE claim Harlow is becoming a safer place to live after new figures revealed the town's overall crime rate has fallen by more than four per cent in the past year.

According to the force's own statistics, anti-social behaviour has dropped by 8.96 per cent, violent crime is down by 6.52 per cent and the domestic burglary rate has been cut by 16.47 per cent.

Other areas in which significant reductions in the level of reported crime have been made include assault, hate crime, drugs offences, criminal damage, vehicle crime and fraud.

Although reports of domestic abuse have shot up by six per cent this year, police believe the rise can be explained by more victims coming forward rather than an actual increase in the number of incidents.

Chief Inspector Ben Hodder, Harlow District Commander, said the reductions had been driven by the work of the Safer Harlow Partnership (SHP), a multi-agency organisation made up of the police, Harlow Council, local NHS trusts and other interested groups.

"Partnership working is key to these successes due to the dedication and support of not only our partners but also members of our community who we constantly rely on to be our eyes and ears," he told the Star.

"It is their strength and courage to stand up and be counted by reporting any suspicious activity or offending behaviour, which all adds to making our society a safer and better place in which to live and work."

Recent crime-cutting initiatives launched by the SHP include upgrades to the town's CCTV network and the introduction of town centre taxi marshalls, while joint operation days, where police and council officers work together to crackdown on issues such as fly-tipping, have also proved successful.

Malcolm Morley, chairman of the Safer Harlow Partnership and Chief Executive of Harlow Council, told the Star: "These figures are very encouraging and show that the town is increasingly a safer place to live.

"However, we're not complacent – these reductions have been achieved by steady and targeted partnership working and we will keep up the momentum to seek to ensure further progress."

Did you see train abuse?

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after a group of passengers were abused and assaulted on a Harlow-bound train.

Officers from British Transport Police have two men they would like to speak to in connection with the incident, which took place on September 21 onboard the 18:28 National Express service between Liverpool St and Harlow Town.

The victims – a woman, her husband and their male friend – were sitting together in First Class when two men entered and began throwing beer and fast-food packaging around.

PC Lee Williamson said: "In the commotion, some of the beer was thrown over the female victim and her husband, staining their clothes."

"The group told the men to calm down before being met with a torrent of abuse, which carried on until the train arrived at Harlow Town, where all five people left the service."

The suspects then continued to abuse the group before heading towards Burnt Mill Lane.

Council responds to traveller 'information'

HARLOW Council has secured green spaces across the town in a bid to stop travellers setting up illegal camps.

According to the authority, action was taken after officers received "reliable information" from an unnamed source that travellers set to be evicted from Dale Farm in Basildon were planning on relocating to Harlow.

Potentially vulnerable land located across the town has since been secured with new locks, gates and ditches.

Site was for light industrial units

SIR, I am disgusted at the decision to give the waste transfer station application the go-ahead and even more disgusted at councillor Mike Garnett for voting in favour and even seconding the proposal at the Essex County Council meeting.

Mr Garnett is supposed to represent his constituents and yet after abstaining from the vote at Harlow Council, he has somehow changed his viewpoint on the proposal and voted in favour when it really mattered.

I have emailed Mr Garnett to ask him why he voted against the wishes of his constituents, the children of Tany's Dell School, local business owners, Harlow Council and our MP.

The proposal of this site just does not make sense. The children at Tany's Dell school use the grounds throughout the day for playtime, sports and outdoor learning.

Noise, fumes, smell and vermin will make the enjoyment of these beautiful grounds at best unpleasant and at worst, extremely unhealthy, especially for pupils and staff who suffer with asthma.

They also have a specialist unit for children with hearing impairment. These children wear hearing aids and many are fitted with cochlear implants. The constant high pitch of vehicle reversing warnings will be amplified and extremely uncomfortable.

The planning application states that just four jobs would be created at this site.

My understanding is that the site was originally set aside for new light industrial units which would create many more positions without the negative impact of the WTS on surrounding occupants.

There are already several offices/units lying vacant in this area of Templefields. The arrival of a WTS will make it even more difficult to attract new businesses which will make a mockery of Harlow's recent successful bid to be an Enterprise Zone.

I would be interested to hear Cllr Garnett's views on these issues, as well as his views on the impact the added pollution and congestion the vehicles coming in and out of this site will no doubt generate.

Andy Jamieson
Canons Gate, Harlow

Arrogance which never fails to amaze

SIR, The arrogance of some of our councillors never fails to amaze me.

Cllr Garnett states that "we can't blame a particular company for problems that already exist".

He is admitting that there is a problem with the traffic conditions in that area, but by voting for the waste plant, he is more or less saying he doesn't give a damn. It's not in his back yard.

And the arrogance doesn't stop there. They are

No one cares about homeless

SIR, So we can't afford to renovate and reopen the YWCA hostel to house local homeless people (Star, October 6).

In 1946, after six years of war, record national debt, food rationing and shortage of building materials, the government gave priority to build homes for the homeless and the heroes. Part of that policy was the financing and building of Harlow and the other six London new towns.

Fast forward 65 years to 2011. The country has just spent £2bn on yet another war but we can't afford to find £2m to renovate the YWCA building to house local homeless people sleeping in church porches or the Town Park.

If the YWCA cannot be utilised, how about the 20 maisonettes in the town centre that have been empty for some 10-15 years?

In my days with Harlow Development Corporation many 100s of homeless or dispossessed people were housed. Now, nobody seems to care or want to utilise empty properties to help homeless people.

In the coming months, the church porch and the Town Park bandstand will be cold and unwelcoming places for a night's sleep. Are we in the 21st century or have we regressed to the 19th century? I wonder!

Ron Bill

going to spend £4,000 on a civic dinner, yet they cannot afford to keep public toilets open, they are selling off everything they possibly can and some are claiming over £200 a week in expenses (sorry, they call it 'allowances').

Surely in these days of economic crisis, you would think that they would say, while this crisis is on, they will not take their allowances.

Maybe it is me, living in a world where I think all our representatives are honourable people.

Les Coben, chairman
Harlow Pensioners Action Association

Hope MP can help get decision reversed

SIR, I attended the meeting of Essex County Council's development & regulation committee when the proposals for the construction of a new waste transfer station on West Road were approved. This decision was only approved on the casting vote of the chairman and this was only necessary because Harlow North county councillor Mike Garnett voted for this proposal in spite of Harlow Council objecting, along with Harlow MP Robert Halfon who spoke against the proposal at the meeting.

I only hope that Mr Halfon can now help in getting this decision reversed.

I would also like to know if Councillor Garnett, as chairman of Harlow Council, will try to overturn any decision made by the council he does not agree with.

H. Hoad
Greenhills, Harlow

Waste site has to be in the right location

SIR, As a ward Councillor for Mark Hall and representatives for Harlow Town as a whole, I am shocked and dismayed at Cllr Mike Garnett's attempt to justify his decision to vote in favour of the waste transfer site in Mark Hall.

I am not opposed to a waste transfer site in Harlow, providing it's in the right location.

The right location would be next to the motorway junction with good links the rest of the county.

Having visited a waste transfer site in Huntingdon which was located by the motorway, away from residential homes and also businesses, I now know what a good location for such a facility would be.

The site in Mark Hall would be much better used by many businesses and not what Essex County Council has decided to do with it.

This is yet another attempt by the Harlow Conservatives to support anyone apart from the actual residents and businesses of Mark Hall or Harlow itself.

I hope now that Essex County Council have decided to build this waste transfer site then maybe they can spend some actual money on another junction of the M11 in Harlow rather than using it as a dumping ground.

Paul Schroder
Labour and Co-operative Councillor for Mark Hall

Were environment and health considered?

SIR, The argument of the Tory councillor 'Just because they protest doesn't mean they're right' Star 6.10.11. gives a clear illustration of thinking, or lack of thinking about protecting our environment.

He tells us his move to cast the decisive vote in favour of allowing a waste dump to be built at Templefields, in close proximity to Tany's Dell Primary School was taken purely on 'planning grounds'.

Surely, however, planning involves considering health, social and environmental effects such as presumably, placing the waste dump next to a primary school.

The councillor agrees that traffic problems in this part of Harlow are already severe, but convoys of large lorries on a daily basis will be allowed 'because we can't blame a company for problems that already exist'.

From this spurious argument, it follows that we must put up with permanent gridlock in the near future, resulting in increased pollution, health problems and a lowering of the quality of life.

If the councillor's argument prevails, we will all be affected, which is why protests will continue.

George Morris
Mulberry Green, Harlow

Councillor has failed on two basic counts

SIR, The site in Templefields is the wrong place for a waste transfer station.

Councillors are elected to represent their constituents and make good value judgments.

I am sorry to say Conservative councillor Michael Garnett failed on both counts.

I suspect the roots of his decision to support the unwelcome development, is a misunderstanding of planning law and the difference between a semi judicial process and a judicial one.

He says "we are going to have the same problem with the Gilden Way development".

I sincerely hope not!

He and other senior conservative councillors should familiarise themselves with concepts such as prematurity, the status of evolving planning policies, ministerial statements, traffic studies and water / sewage reports.

Yes, it is rather technical, but councillors do have to learn the law in order to make the correct judgments.

Why pick on the Conservatives? Because they are in control of Harlow Council and decide on training given to councillors and the resources available for analysing planning applications by officers.

Travellers' eviction should be stopped

SIR, Jim Pailing accuses Cllr Dennis Palmer of a 'misplaced sense of humanity', in taking a stand against the threatened evictions of some 400 Dale Farm residents ("Why was Dale Farm problem put off?" Star, September 29).

Yet it is so 'misplaced' to care about the impact of eviction on a vulnerable minority group, including serious damage to children's education, the health of disabled, very sick residents and pregnant women?

Mr Pailing blames the last Government for extending their stay, but conveniently forgets that John Major advised travellers to buy land in the first place.

The original owner who sold Dale Farm to travellers 10 years ago, said it had been a breaker's yard for 40 years – in industrial use. Basildon Council had 'concreted over' this Green Belt with a track (Guardian).

Furthermore, the council had a contract with the owner to collect and store abandoned vehicles there.

Only this year, the council demolished a historic barn for developers to build 70 houses on the Green Belt. It's clear discrimination in favour of wealthy, far more powerful groups! It certainly suggests that the council had little respect for alleged Green Belt status.

Amnesty International has condemned the threat to cut off water and electricity as a violation of human rights. The United Nations called on the Government to suspend the 'immature and unwise evictions'. Its High Commissioner on Human Rights and also seven local bishops have offered to mediate.

In the name of justice and with a 'sense of humanity', Basildon should halt the eviction process, avoiding acute distress to all concerned while saving well over £18m and negotiate a mutually-acceptable solution.

Jean Clark (Cllr)
Harlow Council

Network Rail is 'out of order' on track fence

SIR, I write regarding the unfenced railway line in the town park ("MP backs rail safety protest", Star, September 29).

It is absolutely appalling that Network Rail's answer to trains killing our dogs is to tell us to keep them on leads! Network Rail has a responsibility to keep their track fenced off in a park, so that dogs can be let off leads and remain safe.

Dogs need exercise and stimulus they simply cannot get while on a lead. The flood plains are a fantastic area for dogs to run, a lovely area that should be safe.

As for Network Rail asking us to treat the railway line like a busy road, well you can see a busy road, but you can't see the railway line behind bushes, so it is a natural assumption to believe it is safely fenced off.

Network Rail is out of order. They should step up and take responsibility to keep us and our dogs safe.

Unfenced railway line in park is 'beyond belief'

SIR, DogLost is a pro-active national organisation run by volunteers, reuniting hundreds of lost and stolen dogs with their owners all over the UK.

We were involved in the search for Cassie, the dog killed at Harlow Town Park, and we would like to add our voice to Cassie's Fence Campaign.

It is beyond belief that a railway line should be unfenced in a town park. Network Rail and Harlow Council need to rectify this urgently.

Shocked council makes cash from old soldiers

SIR, I have just booked 10 tickets for the Remembrance

Sunday performance being held at Harlow Playhouse on November 13. Imagine my surprise when I was asked for a further £10 booking fee.

When I asked the booking clerk if this extra money goes to the Royal British Legion's Poppy Appeal, I was informed it goes to Harlow Council.

This is a special day for veterans of conflicts all over the world and many of these have meagre pensions and are living on a shoestring, so this extra booking fee of £1 per ticket sold comes as a blow to their limited funds.

The council is trying to encourage more people to use The Playhouse, but surely this is not the way forward, hitting vulnerable people in their pockets.

Store's customers give £1,000 to family project

SIR, I would like to say a huge thank you to all the staff and customers at the Slacksbury Food and Wine Store in Hare Street, who have been so tremendously generous and have raised almost £1,000 for their local Home-Start Scheme.

Home-Start Harlow is a family support charity offering friendship, support and practical help to local families with young children who, for a variety of reasons may be finding it difficult to cope with day-to-day family life.

The store has been raising money for Home-Start for some time now. By displaying a charity tube and collection box on the counter in the store, customers can drop their change in and help to raise funds for a good local cause.

Thanks again to everyone that has contributed.

Treated like an idiot when I lost my voice!

SIR, I recently lost my voice due to a virus I had picked up on my travels.

This did not worry me in the slightest, as I knew it was a short-term problem, but what did concern me was the attitude shown to me by shop assistants while I was unwell.

Because I could not speak, I was treated as some sort of village idiot, with some even going so far as to take money out of my hand when paying for goods, rather than waiting for me to give them the correct change.

This kind of attitude set me thinking how society treats people who have disabilities, no matter how slight.

The PC brigade who shout about things like giving prisoners the right to vote would be better placed looking out for the interests of the disabled, but perhaps not enough political capital is to be made out of issues concerning sensible matters.

Labour councillors seem to have short memories

SIR, What short memories our Labour councillors have, in particular Cllr Clark.

I was astonished to read her statement in the article 'Tories under fire etc' that 'fearful of losing their seats in next May's elections, they are trying to get as much out of Harlow residents before they get kicked out'.

I doubt if many in Harlow have forgotten that in very recent times our former MP, Bill Rammell, was claiming £400 per month for food, not to mention his second home in the town (the first being in London!) — paid for by the taxes of those same hardworking people that she now claims to be supporting.

Where was her voice then?

Or perhaps it's different if a Labour politician is spending the public's money — I'm sure the hardworking people of Harlow will have an opinion.

Mark Hall is paired with top grammar

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

MARK Hall School has teamed up with a top Chelmsford secondary in a bid to transform the learning experience of its students.

Staff hope the new partnership forged with King Edward VI Grammar School (KEGS) – rated 'outstanding' by Ofsted – will help improve the quality of teaching and learning at the First Avenue school, which is set to become an Academy.

Focusing first on maximising outcomes for the current crop of Year 10 and 11 students, the 'transformation team' headed up by KEGS headteacher Tom Sherrington will then strive to introduce significantly higher expectations of learning, homework and discipline among pupils in Years 7, 8 and 9 in a bid to raise standards of literacy and numeracy.

The school's community profile will also be overhauled, with renewed focus put on the development of long-term partnerships with local primary schools and families, so the process of raising aspirations and improving learning are supported from a much earlier stage in the children's education.

Mr Sherrington said: "I am confident that staff and students at both schools have a great deal to learn from each other."

Mark Hall headteacher Jane Hadlow described the new partnership as a "fantastic opportunity" for the school.

"The opportunity to work with the best, to get the best for our students, is something every headteacher wants for their young people and community.

"Here is a fantastic opportunity

PARTNERS:

Mark Hall headteacher Jane Hadlow and King Edward VI Grammar school head, Tom Sherrington are looking forward to working together to bring something unique and different to Mark Hall School and Harlow.

"Becoming an Academy is not the only answer to securing school improvement – Government education policy encourages diversity and local solutions and this is certainly a unique solution in Essex."

KEGS headteacher Tom Sherrington added: "I am confident that staff and students at both schools have a great deal to learn from each other.

"Our message to parents about to make the choice of secondary school for their Year 6 children is this: Mark Hall is embarking on an incredibly exciting journey with King Edward VI Grammar School at its side – please join us because there is no limit to the ambition we have for your child's education and we intend to deliver!"

Grooming parlour marks 30th anniversary

HARLOW'S longest-running pet grooming parlour has proved it is top dog after sniffing out success in a prestigious national grooming competition.

Mister Groom, based at Eastwick Lodge, picked up first and third place gongs at the British Grooming Championships, beating off competition from over 70 entrants from across the UK.

The prizes are the latest in a long line of successes for the business, which celebrates its 30th anniversary this month. Owner Linda Forsyth told the Star: "There aren't many businesses in Harlow who can say they've been going for 30 years.

"Our celebrations have been made even more special by winning a couple of top prizes in this year's British Grooming Championships – I can still remember winning there in our first year!

"I'm extremely fortunate to have such a talented and passionate team."

Tony's cycle trek raises over £5,000

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A HARLOW man who recorded every ache and pain of an epic 1,000-mile bike ride in an online blog has raised an incredible £5,400 for two children's charities.

Despite not being a regular cyclist, Tony Bash (44), of School Lane, was nominated by his wife to take part in the Lands End to John O'Groats challenge in aid of the National Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children and Childline.

"My wife is a Childline councillor and being someone who had a slightly difficult childhood myself I have always thought they do an amazing job," said Tony.

"When she received an email at work about the fundraiser it was quickly pointed in my direction and I just thought why not."

Tony, who completed the 12-day slog last weekend with 17 other people, says that he persuaded friends, family and work colleagues into helping him to raise such a huge amount.

"I must admit I was shameless with it and really pestered people," he said. "I also hoped the blog could help a few more pounds to roll in."

"It was strangely therapeutic to get into the hotel after a long, hard day, have a shower, and then sit on the bed and type up the day's activities. I really enjoyed doing it and will be printing it up as a souvenir."

"Everyone was brilliant at supporting me though and altogether as a group we raised over £60,000 which is quite incredible."

Father-of-four Tony, who works as an accountant, said the challenge was one of the best experiences he has ever had.

"It was amazing. We were so lucky with the weather and it was such a good group. I have made a lot of friends for life."

"From Dartmoor to the Lake District to Scotland the views and sites were just extraordinary and really helped us to keep going."

He added: "Although I am still sore I am actually really missing not waking up to a 90-mile bike ride each morning. It is definitely something I would do again."

You can read Tony's blog at www.tonybash.wordpress.com. To help top up his fundraising total, visit www.justgiving.com/Tony-Bash.

Drop in to new youth club

TEENAGERS in Harlow are being encouraged to help shape a new youth club.

Funded by Essex County Council, the Harlow Youth Hub in Harberts Road has been set up to provide a safe environment for young people aged 13-19 to socialise with friends, take part in new activities and enjoy some independence away from home.

The centre – which has a pool table, sofas, table tennis facilities, a kitchen and a coffee bar – also aims to run various support and guidance projects including a drop-in sexual health clinic and a teenage parents group for young mums and dads.

"We are at the early stages but have some really big ideas for the new youth club which we hope to build on with suggestions from members," said manager Lucy Wilson.

"The aim is for it to be a safe place where young people can go, have fun, relax, socialise with friends and seek any support or guidance that they might need."

She added: "I would encourage as many young people whatever their background to just come along, give us a try and hopefully get involved."

The centre, which opened two weeks ago, is holding an official launch night on November 7.

The Harlow Youth Hub is open every Wednesday and Thursday evening from 7pm. For more information, email harestreet.youthcentre@essex.gov.uk or call (01279) 404401 and ask to be put through to the youth service.

Support service seeking funding

A CHARITY supporting vulnerable children and their families in Harlow is holding a celebration and awareness event to showcase the work it does in the community.

School-Home-Support is currently working with 500 children across 20 schools in Harlow to help increase their aspirations, improve punctuality and attendance, and help them to get the most out of their education.

Assistant director Claire Smith explained: "Funding for this vital service ends in March 2012. The event is an opportunity to both highlight the importance of the work SHS and HEC do and to try to elicit support from the wider business community to protect the future of this service."

The showcase event takes place next Tuesday at Passmores Academy in Tracys Road between 4-6pm. For more information email Claire at claire.smith@shs.org.uk or call the SHS central office on 020 7426 5000.

First meeting for residents

RESIDENTS of Carters Mead can share their concerns and ideas about the neighbourhood at the area's first community meeting next Wednesday.

Members of the local policing team as well as a representative from Harlow Council's housing staff responsible for the area will also be attending the meeting which intends to highlight any community issues.

It takes place at the new Passmores Academy in Tracys Road from 7-9pm and all are welcome to attend. For more information email garryroberts_24@yahoo.co.uk.

Foodbank needs more volunteers

VOLUNTEERS are urgently needed to help a Harlow charity providing emergency food rations to those in need.

Harlow Foodbank requires some extra hands for the next three weeks to assist with processing the additional contributions it receives at this time of the year.

The work will involve an element of lifting and carrying. Volunteers are needed from 9.30am-2.30pm on Mondays and Fridays at the LOKnSTORE in Edinburgh Way.

Anyone interested should contact Jacqueline Cotton on 07999 866952.

Lottery winners

THE winner of the £1,000 prize in the weekly St Clare Hospice lottery draw on Friday, October 7 is ticket holder 869562, who lives in Cambridge.

The second prize of £100 goes to the holder of ticket number is 267933, who lives in Epping.

Seconds out for family's charity ride

ONE FOR ALL!
Graham Greg and George Ellis are cycling through the Outer Hebrides for Harlow Boxing Club
(photo: HAR775213)

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THREE generations of the same family are gearing up for an island-hopping cycling adventure in the Outer Hebrides to raise money for a local boxing club.

Graham Ellis (62), his son Greg (37) and grandson George (10) will saddle up later this month for the six-day trek in aid of Harlow Amateur Boxing Club (ABC), where George is a member.

The trio – who last year walked the breadth of England to raise money for South Essex Gymnastics Club – plan to travel the length of the sparsely populated island chain, setting off from Stornoway in the north and finishing their 140-mile journey at Barra in the south.

Veteran fundraiser Graham, who has raised more than £500,000 for good causes over the past 30 years, told the Star they were relishing their latest challenge.

"There's no doubt it's going to be tough – the Outer Hebrides is probably one of the wettest places you could go to at this time of year – but we're all really looking forward to it," he said.

"George may only be 10, but he's a tough lad and did fantastically well during our coast-to-coast walk last year, so I'm sure he'll be able to handle this."

The family hope to raise around £2,000 to buy new equipment for the boxing club on Momples Road and have already secured donations of paint and new signage from local firms J&D Paints and Signs Express to help give the ageing gym a bright new look.

Set up in the 1960s as a non-profit organisation, the ABC is staffed exclusively by volunteers and is run purely on small weekly subscriptions paid by the boys.

It currently has eight carded boxers on its books. "The club gets no external funding and scrapes by on the subs paid by its members, which is just enough to pay the rent, but means they can't buy the new equipment they desperately need," Graham, of Puffers Green, added.

"George's been training there for a few months now, so we've seen first-hand the fantastic work they do for the local community – hopefully, we can now help to give them something back."

To sponsor the Ellis family in their latest challenge, contact Lorna Ellis on (01279) 635667 or email office@geaonline.co.uk.

Apprenticeship fair at college

YOUNGSTERS alarmed at spiralling youth unemployment can take advantage of expert advice on entering the world of work when Harlow College plays host to Essex's first-ever apprenticeship fair next week.

The unique event – which takes place on Monday afternoon inside the Velizy Avenue college's new University Centre Harlow building – will give would-be apprentices the chance to seek information and guidance from employers representing a diverse range of industries.

The college has recently helped set up apprenticeships with Harlow MP Rob Halfon and freelance education journalist Janet Murray, and deputy principal Sue Young told the Star she hoped the event would help pave the way for more youngsters to pursue their dream careers.

"There are lots of myths about apprenticeships, from smaller companies thinking they're unable to afford them, to young people not fully understanding them and thinking they're only for certain jobs" she said.

Monday's fair is free to attend and runs from 4pm until 7pm. For more information, call Harlow College on (01279) 868100.

Television and cash stolen in burglary

POLICE are appealing for witnesses following a burglary in Harlow.

Thieves struck at the address in Dovehouse Croft between 10.30pm and midnight on Friday after gaining entry through a kitchen window.

A 32-inch LG flat-screen television and a large bottle full of cash were stolen in the raid.

PC Garry Bray said: "I am hoping someone in the area saw someone carrying this large TV or loading it into a vehicle.

"Also a large whiskey bottle containing change that was being saved for Christmas presents was stolen."

SHEERING PRIMARY Pupils went udder-ly mad for milk when Harlow MP Rob Halfon swapped Question Time for milk time at the village primary.

The school was taking part in World School Milk Day to encourage children to drink more of the white stuff.

Mr Halfon took time out from his parliamentary duties to hold a question and answer session with members of the school council before visiting each class to dish out their daily milk delivery.

Headteacher Julie Lorkins said: "We were very pleased to have Mr Halfon visit us for the day; he made a fantastic milk monitor!"

"The children were fascinated to learn more about the role and duties of an MP and Mr Halfon was very interested in hearing more about some of the activities we've been running at the school."

PRIMARY schools across Harlow have enjoyed a bumper delivery of brand new equipment thanks to the generosity of Tesco.

Holy Cross, Pear Tree Mead, Churchgate, Henry Moore, Harlowbury, Fawbert & Barnards, Tany's Dell and Church Langley primaries are among the schools benefiting from this year's Tesco For Schools & Clubs initiative.

Each school collected thousands of vouchers given to shoppers spending more than £10 at Tesco stores. These were then exchanged for new computers, sports equipment, classroom must-haves and cooking utensils made available through the scheme.

Diane Harper, community champion at the Tesco store in Church Langley, said: "The pupils eyes lit up when they saw some of the new equipment their schools had managed to secure through the scheme."

"It's a fantastic way for schools to get much-needed new equipment for free."

STEWARDS Students are sporting DNA necklaces after taking part in a Science Alive workshop at Harlow Leisurezone.

The budding scientists spent an afternoon with staff from GlaxoSmithKline to perform an experiment to extract DNA which they used to make their new accessories. Collecting cells from their cheeks, they were shown a chemical process to release the DNA and then sealed it inside a small bottle to be worn as a necklace.

Afterwards the youngsters gathered into the popular bubble theatre to finish off the session with a slideshow about cells.

"The students all had a smashing time and learnt a lot," said science curriculum development manager Geraldine Wright.

"They all came back with their DNA bottles around their necks and were very pleased with themselves. Perhaps they'll start a new fashion trend next!"

Street turns out for jubilee party

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

WITH preparations underway for next year's Golden Jubilee celebrations, we thought it would be a good time to turn back the clock to 1977 – the year of the Queen's Silver Jubilee.

Street parties were held up and down the country and Harlow was no exception. Among those joining in were the residents of Upper Stoneyfield. This photo was given to Nostalgia by Gary Grimes, of Bush Fair, whose mum – Pam Barnard – helped to arrange the community celebration.

"There were six mums who decided to organise the street party," said Pam, who still lives in Upper Stoneyfield.

"Everybody was holding celebrations but if you wanted a big party you had to get on it early as there was planning permission and a license and all sorts to sort out first."

According to Pam, the mums would meet weekly to discuss their plans and take it in turns to go door-to-door for collections from each household towards the bash.

"There was a certain price for each adult and child. I can't remember what it was exactly but we definitely raised enough to cover everything," she said.

"Everyone pitched in helping to set up the tables and make the food. It was lovely."

"We held it in the cul-de-sac and had tables lined up all down the street decorated with bunting. There was a fancy dress contest which a councillor judged and I remember the hired children's entertainer Silly Lilly being very popular with the kids.

"None of the organisers dressed up but we did wear special Union Jack hats made by one of the mums. It helped us to stand out."

Pam, who is pictured at the back of the picture trying to stop her son Kevin from spilling his drink, said there was real community spirit.

"Everyone had a really good day together."

It was always like that in those days; we all knew and looked after each other," she added.

"There are three of the same mums still living on the street today and we are still very close and always look out for each other."

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: Harlow Playhouse

It was a few months ago when Nostalgia featured the story of Harlow Playhouse ahead of its 40th anniversary.

And this week we have received a special request to help reunite all of the theatre's former members of staff and volunteers to kick-off the birthday celebrations.

Organisers are hoping to gather as many of those who helped to establish the theatre over the years as possible for a private get-together 40 years to the day of its first performance.

Current manager Scott Ramsay said: "The Playhouse has been an important feature of Harlow for the past 40 years, drawing many people into the town and helping to enrich the lives of those who live here."

"Anyone who's had a part to play in that is welcome to join us on the day to mark this special milestone."

One of the Playhouse's first employees – Joy Henegan (58) of Potter Street – remembers the official launch night.

"I was 18 and serving the drinks," she said. "We all wore gold skirts, white blouses and white aprons and I can recall there being a lot of councillors."

"I also remember Tommy Trinder and Lulu, who were performing in the opening gala show. I really liked Lulu and think I said hello when I gave her a drink."

"When she was on stage her husband at the time – Maurice Gibb – sat in the aisle to watch her perform. It was all very exciting!"

● If you have ever worked or volunteered at the Playhouse and would like to attend the get-together, contact the theatre on (01279) 446702.

25 years ago in the Star

There was chaos on the buses following Sunday's deregulation of services, according to the council highways chairman. Hundred of passengers were faced with long waits, shops sold out of timetables and Essex County Council admitted that the timetables contained some inaccuracies.

Young people are known to be sleeping rough in Harlow, shocked voluntary workers were told during their annual general meeting last week. Unconfirmed reports said youngsters had been spotted sleeping in Ladyshot Wood, the town park, garages and even the crematorium grounds.

Claims that the Archbishop of Canterbury and his wife are considering a divorce have been slammed by members of a Harlow Church. Parishioners at St Stephen's Tye Green have written to Dr Robert Runcie and his wife to offer their support after being "deeply saddened" to hear the spiteful allegations.

More than 100 drivers will be joining forces to ensure that listeners of BBC Essex get the best possible travel service by messaging traffic updates to the broadcaster.

The station will begin providing Essex drivers with up to the minute news of hold ups or delays on the roads from next Wednesday.

Car park has new look

A MULTI-STORY car park has been given a bright new look by Harlow Council in a bid to make it more "reassuring" for users.

The Wych Elm car park was last upgraded in January 2009, but the authority has now painted it completely white after members of a local users' group said the building was too dark at night and complained that women drivers in particular had anxieties about parking there.

According to the council, the existing lighting currently meets standard requirements, but will be checked again over the winter months.

Councillor Joel Charles, portfolio holder for community and citizenship, said: "This was a good example of a local community group raising concerns which the council was able to quickly act on."

"Car parks are not always the most attractive buildings, so we hope this cleaning and maintenance initiative is welcomed – it is a council priority to create a clean and safe environment for residents."

"We hope regular users will agree that Wych Elm car park already looks brighter and we hope that the work reassures motorists, particularly as the winter nights draw in."

HEALTH CHECK in partnership with the PAH NHS Trust

Protect against a seasonal killer

PEOPLE in the East of England are playing Russian roulette with their lives every year by not protecting themselves against seasonal flu.

While people routinely get vaccinated against yellow fever, typhoid and hepatitis A before jetting off on exotic holidays to Thailand or Africa, statistics show that only half of under 65s who were advised to get the seasonal flu jab did so last year.

This is despite the fact that seasonal flu can also be life-threatening. Last year 602 people died of flu in the UK and 70 per cent of those deaths were people aged 15-64 years.

The statistics come as the seasonal flu vaccine has been made available free of charge for people in 'at risk' groups.

Chief Medical Officer Dame Sally Davies said: "A five minute appointment to have the flu jab could save your life.

"Flu can be a serious illness, particularly for those in at-risk groups. It can result in a spell in hospital, and sadly, it can kill. The best way to protect yourself is to be vaccinated.

"There is no reason not to get vaccinated. It takes 5-10 days for the vaccine to take effect so I'd urge everyone in an at risk group to get vaccinated as soon as they are able."

Professor David Salisbury, national director of immunisation, said: "It is important that people get vaccinated when they go travelling. However, it is just as important for people in at risk groups to get the flu jab.

"It is very important that people in these groups get vaccinated early in the flu season so they are protected before flu starts to circulate.

"About three-quarters of older people get their flu vaccine each year but only around half of younger people in at risk groups get vaccinated. Seasonal flu is not the same as getting a cold; it can seriously affect your health."

FACTfile

Those who can get the flu jab free of charge on the NHS include:

- >> pregnant women
- >> anyone with a long-term condition including diabetes, asthma, liver disease, kidney disease or heart or chest problems
- >> people undergoing medical treatment who may have a compromised immune system
- >> people with a neurological condition such as multiple sclerosis or cerebral palsy
- >> everyone aged 65 or over

Stay away unless it is an emergency

HARLOW residents are being urged to think carefully about which NHS services they use over the coming winter period.

The local NHS is keen for people to get the right care in the shortest time by ensuring they pick the service that is most appropriate for their ailment or condition.

Medical director Dr Sandra Dimmock said: "Winter sees a rise in the number of people accessing hospital A&E services with minor problems that could be dealt with more effectively by other services.

"Local pharmacies can give expert advice about common winter health problems without an appointment and minor injuries clinics can deal with minor injuries and illnesses.

"We urge everyone to choose well and choose wisely. Please only call 999 or go to A&E if it is an absolute emergency. This will help us to care quickly for those who are seriously ill and need urgent help the most."

If you feel very unwell you should always call NHS Direct on 0845 4647, or if symptoms continue, speak to your GP for advice.

Here comes the Sun

EUROPE is to lead the most ambitious space mission in history as it prepares to send an unmanned spacecraft to the Sun.

The Solar Orbiter will be launched in 2017 and will come within 26 million miles of our solar system's gigantic heat source – closer than any probe before it.

The craft will study the star's behaviour and how it generates solar winds – a type of radiation that disrupts communication systems on Earth and creates the spectacular Northern Lights.

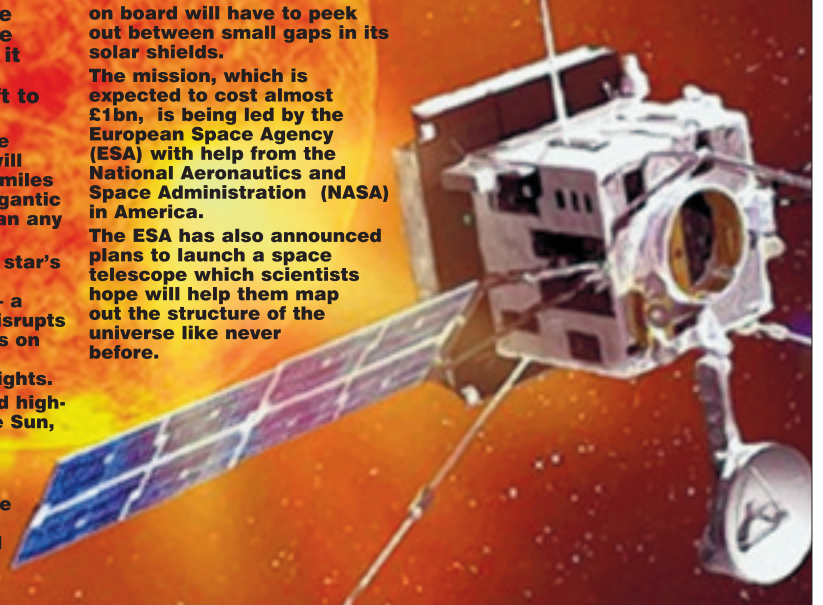

It will also take detailed high-resolution photos of the Sun, giving scientists more information about its properties.

The spacecraft will have to withstand temperatures of around 500 degrees and the high-tech instruments on board will have to peek out between small gaps in its solar shields.

The mission, which is expected to cost almost £1bn, is being led by the European Space Agency (ESA) with help from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) in America.

The ESA has also announced plans to launch a space telescope which scientists hope will help them map out the structure of the universe like never before.

Counting down to a Pan-tastic panto

By CHRIS MOSS

A STAR of TV drama, a children's TV presenter and two hugely popular comics will be among the well-known faces taking flight to Neverland in this year's spectacular family pantomime at Harlow Playhouse.

The timeless tale of the boy who never grew up, Peter Pan is set to light up the theatre with magic and mischief during its month-long run from December 2-January 2.

The eponymous hero will be played by Jacob Scipio, best known as CBeebies' resident brainbox The Kerwhizzitor on the TV channel's hit show Kerwhizz, while his nefarious nemesis Captain Hook will be played by Chris Ellison, known to millions as Detective Inspector Burnside on long-running ITV dramas The Bill and Burnside.

Back by huge popular demand following a show-stealing performance as Wishee-Washee in last year's production of Aladdin, the hilarious Tom Swift will again be providing the laughs as Hook's wily right-hand man Smee, joined by local panto favourite and comic Patrick Jacobs, a former star of the popular Christmas productions at Bishop's Stortford's Rhodes Theatre.

Harlow Playhouse manager Scott Ramsay promised audiences would have plenty to look forward to from this year's show.

"The sets are big and wonderful, the costumes are gorgeous, the flying magical, and the cast are immensely talented," he said.

"We love the fact that our pantos are genuinely funny and not just peppered with old jokes. And in Tom Swift we have a perfect bundle of fun and energy."

This year's show is being produced by Enchanted Entertainment and director Guy Pascall said there would again be plenty of opportunities for local youngsters to get involved.

"We're working closely with two of the sub-region's leading theatre schools –

Academy Arts Theatre School and Jacquielson Theatre Arts – who will be providing opportunities for young performers to benefit from the production.

"We're also delighted to have recently launched a 'Search for Wendy' competition to allow a young performer an opportunity to launch into the profession with a paid contract, an opportunity sponsored by the Harvey Centre."

Tickets for Peter Pan are available now from the box office on (01279) 431945 or online at www.playhouseharlow.com. A percentage of every ticket sold will be donated to the Great Ormond Street Hospital Children's Charity.

HARLOW PLAYHOUSE Playhouse Square (01279) 431945

>>drama The provocative tale of a troubled youth sent to a secure psychiatric unit after blinding six horses with a metal spike, Peter Shaffer's acclaimed psychological thriller Equus is brought vividly to life on the Playhouse stage from tonight (Thursday). Exploring the complex relationships between worship, myth and sexuality, London Classic Theatre Company's gritty new production runs until Saturday. Performances begin at 7.30pm tonight and Saturday, with a 10am matinee tomorrow (Friday). Tickets cost £14.50 (£12.50 concessions).

>>comedy They say all political careers end in tears but in Gyles Brandreth's case it's tears of laughter as the actor, author and former MP tries his hand at stand-up. Join him for an evening of wit and wordplay tomorrow night (Friday) during which you can expect to hear candid revelations about the stars he's known and the wicked ways of Westminster. The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £16 (£14 concessions).

>>comedy Top UK stand-up and regular TV panel show guest Simon Evans brings his razor-sharp observational comedy to Harlow on Saturday night. In high demand as a comedy writer on hit TV shows including Not Going Out, 8 Out Of 10 Cats and Would I Lie To You, Simon has also made several appearances on Michael McIntyre's Comedy Roadshow and is a regular contributor to Radio 4's News Quiz. The show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £12.50.

>>children Join Mr Bump, Mr Tickle, Little Miss Bossy and all your favourite characters from the Mr Men and Little Miss books for an all-singing, all-dancing party roadshow on Sunday afternoon. Audiences will also get the chance to meet a royal addition to the clan as Little Miss Princess makes her stage debut.

Performances start at 1pm and 3.30pm, and tickets cost £13 (£11 concessions / £44 family ticket).

ST JOHN'S ARC St John's Walk, Old Harlow (01279) 442447

>>music The ARC's popular programme of lunchtime music concerts continues tomorrow (Friday) with a flute, cello and piano recital from the South Bank Trio, who will be playing music by Martinu and Gaubert. Homemade soup and artisan bread will be served with a complimentary glass of wine or fruit juice at 1pm before the start of the concert at 1.30pm. Admission costs £4 including lunch.

>>music Covers band Red & Black will be raising the roof tomorrow (Friday) night with a rocking set of classic tracks from the 1960s to the present day. The gig starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £5 (including supper). Audience members are welcome to bring their own drinks

Musketeers are back for a 3D action romp

THE THREE MUSKETEERS 3D certificate 12A, 1h50m

IT'S been the best part of two decades since Alexandre Dumas's legendary swordsmen declared "All for one, one for all" on the big screen.

British director Paul W S Anderson (Resident Evil, Death Race) turns to the 3D format for his old-fashioned reworking that relies heavily on swordplay to keep our pulses racing.

The cast members look fierce, duelling with their blades in slow-motion, and the body count is impressively high, albeit without a drop of spilt blood to ensure the family-friendly 12A classification.

Screenwriters Alex Litvak and Andrew Davies resort to a glaring anachronism in their pursuit of bigger, bolder thrills.

Dirigibles soar over the skies of Europe more than 100 years before the French invented them, providing Anderson's film with its set-piece skirmishes in the air rather than on land or water.

D'Artagnan (Logan Lerman) leaves behind his father (Dexter Fletcher) to seek his fortune in the court of young and inexperienced King Louis (Freddie Fox) and his bride Queen Anne (Juno Temple).

En route, the young man crosses paths with Porthos (Ray Stevenson), Athos (Matthew Macfadyen) and Aramis (Luke Evans), who have been disbanded.

"Bad mission, budget cuts... take your pick," quips Athos.

D'Artagnan earns the Musketeers' respect by challenging Rochefort (Mads Mikkelsen), the head of the guards, to a duel for daring to insult his beloved horse, Buttercup.

With the help of M'Lady (Milla Jovovich), D'Artagnan and the Musketeers learn of a plot masterminded by Cardinal Richelieu (Christoph Waltz) to impugn the Duke of Buckingham (Orlando Bloom, pictured) by planting evidence to suggest that the nobleman has deflowered the Queen.

With time running out before King Louis declares war against the British, the Musketeers and their new recruit declare, "All for one, one for all" and they hatch a plan of their own to foil Richelieu and restore the lustre of the Queen's reputation.

The Three Musketeers is a jolly romp, plying comedy, action and romance with a healthy dose of skulduggery and heaving bosoms.

Lerman is a likeable hero in training, adept with his blade but woefully outclassed when it comes to wooing maidens.

"In the battle of wits, you, sir, are unarmed," giggles one maiden.

Stevenson, Macfadyen and Evans stride manfully through each confrontation while Jovovich proves that anything the boys can do she can do better, sliding over and beneath booby-traps or somersaulting over razor-sharp wires.

>>still on screen

The Lion King 3D Disney's highest-grossing hand-drawn animation of all time strides back onto the big screen, looking more sensational than ever in the increasingly fashionable 3D format.

Elderly lion Scar (voiced by Jeremy Irons) plots to usurp his brother, the majestic King Mufasa (James Earl Jones), and seize control of the grasslands in a fragile alliance with the hyenas.

The scoundrel orchestrates a devilish plan to kill Mufasa and his newborn heir Simba (Jonathan Taylor Thomas) by luring them into a canyon during a wildebeest stampede.

Mufasa dies saving his son from being crushed under hoof. Poor Simba, overwhelmed by guilt and inflamed by Scar's cruel words, flees his homeland for the jungle where he befriends the eccentric double-act of neurotic meerkat Timon (Nathan Lane) and flatulent warhog Pumbaa (Ernie Sabella).

Years later, the now full-grown Simba (Matthew Broderick) chances upon his former sweetheart Nala (Moira Kelly), who tells of Scar's despotic reign. Filled with anger, Simba returns to Pride Rock to overthrow Scar and save his family from extinction.

Johnny English: Reborn Johnny English Repackaged might be a more fitting title for this sequel to the 2003 comedy which poked gentle fun at the image of British spies as debonair gents with a licence to kill.

Aside from the casting of rising star Daniel Kaluuya as Johnny's sidekick and a prominent role for a voice-controlled Rolls-Royce Phantom Coupe V16, Johnny English Reborn could have been shot directly after the original film and left to gather dust on a shelf marked Straight To DVD Some Day.

It's is an old-fashioned, gently effervescent spy caper that amuses but rarely delights. Atkinson's talent for physical humour delivers a couple of belly laughs and his contortions are pure Mr Bean while the rest of the cast keep straight faces.

Tinker Tailor Soldier Spy Control (John Hurt), the chief of a 1970s British Secret Intelligence Service unit known as the Circus, learns that Russian counterpart Karla has placed a mole within the ranks. To unmask the traitor, Control turns to trusted protegee, Smiley (Gary Oldman). Soon after, Control takes his own life, leaving Smiley to uncover the intrigues of the other Circus members: Percy Alleline (Toby Jones), Roy Bland (Ciaran Hinds), Toby Esterhase (David Denick) and Bill Haydon (Colin Firth). Aided by the young, ambitious Peter Guillam (Benedict Cumberbatch), Smiley searches for clues leading to Circus researcher Connie Sachs (Kathy Burke) and missing operative Ricki Tarr (Tom Hardy).

Paranormal Activity 3 Prequel set 18 years before the first two creepy horror films in the series.

In 1988, young sisters Katie and Kristi encounter an invisible entity haunting their home. It seems friendly but soon turns hostile.

Yogi Bear A documentary filmmaker travels to Jellystone Park to shoot a project and soon crosses paths with Yogi Bear, his sidekick Boo-Boo, and Ranger Smith. Featuring Dan Aykroyd, Justin Timberlake and Anna Faris.

Furry Vengeance A group of woodland creatures who don't want their homes disturbed by the construction of a new housing development decide to take action.

also new this week

FOOTLOOSE certificate 12A, 1h53m

IF it ain't broke, don't fix it.

That's the mantra of director Craig Brewer, who updates the storyline of this toe-tapping remake to present day Georgia but retains the familiar characters and plot of the 1984 classic, which immortalised Kevin Bacon as a teen rebel who unites the emotionally scarred youth of his hometown with the intoxicating power of boogie.

Opening to the infectious twangs and beat of the Kenny Loggins title track, Footloose doesn't put a heel or toe out of place in the energetic dance sequences to funky new versions of Deniece Williams, Shalamar and Bonnie Tyler.

The good-looking, athletic cast kick up their heels with gusto and choreographer Jamal Sims melds line dancing with hip hop and street, always harking back affectionately to the iconic moments of the earlier version.

Lead stars Kenny Wormald and Julianne Hough are impressive in their solos and the group numbers, and they catalyse smouldering screen chemistry.

REAL STEEL certificate 12, 2h6m

ROCKY goes five rounds with Short Circuit in Real Steel, a futuristic action adventure that handsomely showcases Hugh Jackman's rippling muscles.

Directed with a heavy hand by Shawn Levy, the crowd-pleasing film hinges on a familiar clash between father and estranged son, using the fictitious sport of robot boxing to save old wounds and build bridges towards a brighter future.

It's all terribly wholesome and cloying, adding a sweet but largely chaste romantic subplot to counter all of the testosterone and male posturing.

Action sequences are breathlessly choreographed, pitting mechanised warriors against one another in a battle to the system malfunction (aka death).

Real Steel is entertaining if overlong and Jackman and his on-screen son Dakota Goyo share a winning screen chemistry that holds our interest through some plodding interludes.

But while Real Steel's special effects hardware is mightily impressive, the software of John Gatins's script is infected with the sentimentality and cliché viruses.

Your stars with Patrick Arundell
 to guide you through the week ahead

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
 As this week begins, so Venus forges a delicious link with Neptune, and this can arouse your romantic imagination, and also hopes. Yet with Mercury pressed by Saturn, and the Sun about to be, temper your hopes with some earthy realism. Call me for your love scope...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
 For the zodiac's natural diplomat, sticking firmly to your plans as you have needed to of late may have seemed out of character. However, scant satisfaction is to be gained by relying on the feedback of others. Pleasingly your finances can start to improve. Call for more news...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
 Venus and Mercury arrive in your sector of relating, and can help to soothe out, some of the jagged edges which have prevailed of late. The Full Moon may also demand that you take action if you are unhappy at work or feeling worn by everyday stresses. Call for more...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
 This week's Full Moon suggests that you cannot avoid a tricky subject a minute longer. Pleasingly the thing you dread discussing can prove less worrisome, after all. Indeed, by the week's end you can be moving forward much more progressively. Call for more advice...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
 If you socialize a lot with friends, a partner can resent it. But then if you're newly loved up it can be your social circle who press you to spend more time with them. Time management is essential. Mercury demands you get your eye back on the ball. Call for your love scope...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
 You become serious minded about your future prospects, but this may see you start to step back from the fray, as you examine your options. However, a period of mulling things over quietly may be better than charging in blindly. Take soundings. Call me for more news...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
 There may be repairs or household maintenance to do or a family member is still requiring your unstinting support. Venus and Mercury encourage you that some playful entertainment can help ease your burdens. Accept their invitation. Call for more news and astral advice...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
 If it's a while since you last saw your folks, friends or anyone else socially, you may decide that things have got to change. Yet, just as the urge to break out emerges, so the pressure to conform and do your bit, reaches an even greater high. Hold on in there. Call for more...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
 If you apply the chance to absorb new and exciting knowledge can be positive, for as can prove helpful. A training course might be challenging, but the extra you put into it will give you an edge. However, it is going to be important to take care of information, so back up files. Call me for more advice...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
 There can be formal or legal discussions, but all of this can be positive, for as you ramp up your efforts to widen the scope of your situation, you will encounter some influential people, and need to cultivate good links and create the right impression. Call for more advice...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
 Your communication skills can help you, not least because you understand it's not just about getting along well with people, you want to do something genuine and solid to help. Finances may however reach a pinch point. Call me now for your financial scope in full...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
 If things have got intense, this is the perfect time to plan some exciting distractions. Venturing out into the countryside, visiting places of natural beauty, or even jetting off for a sunshine break can all help you to rediscover your equilibrium. Call me for more advice...

Two-bed with conservatory in a popular part of Harlow

coverproperty

Location Glebelands, Harlow

Category Two-bedroom

Additional Generous size lounge, conservatory, private back garden, driveway with parking space for two vehicles

Guide price £176,500

Agent Geoffrey Matthew Estates, 47 High Street, Old Harlow. Telephone (01279) 444988

THIS generously sized, two-bedroom home at Glebelands is within the popular Mark Hall North area of Harlow.

There is off-street parking and an unoverlooked attractive garden to the rear, making this a property that is certainly worth a closer look.

From the porch with its double glazed front door and laminate flooring, a door leads into the hallway and there are double glazed sliding doors to the study.

The study is a useful little room and a pleasant place to work, with laminate flooring and a double glazed window to the front.

The kitchen features a range of eye and base level units, tiled flooring and a double glazed window to the front.

The lounge is a very generous size with double glazed French doors leading into the conservatory which in turn has patio doors opening out onto the back of the property.

Upstairs the landing has a double glazed window on the stairway and there is an airing cupboard and doors to the two bedrooms and the bathroom.

Both of the bedrooms have built-in wardrobes and windows overlooking the rear.

The bathroom includes a corner bath with power shower and a window to the front.

The private back garden is part patio but mostly laid to lawn. There is a wooden framed shed, an outside tap and lighting. The driveway has parking space for up to two cars.

This property is offered for sale through Geoffrey Matthew Estates. Call (01279) 444988 for more details or to arrange a viewing.

Asking price of £645,000

THIS impressive detached house sits in a delightful plot of approximately half an acre in Henham.

There are five bedrooms, three reception rooms and a conservatory. The living room includes a stunning fireplace with exposed brickwork.

The large back garden has been well looked after and includes patio areas which are ideal for outside entertaining. There is also a double garage and driveway.

Apple Tree Homes estate agents can arrange a viewing appointment for you or provide further details on (01279) 635975.

On the market for £399,995

DENBY Grange on the Church Langley development was built in the late 1990s by Copthorne Homes and is in the catchment area for Henry Moore School.

This detached property is presented to a high standard throughout and has two generous reception rooms, four bedrooms, and a utility room.

The garden has side access and has been landscaped very well. Contact the Old Harlow office of agents Howick & Brooker on (01279) 418888 if you would like to arrange a viewing.

Yours for £157,950

LOCATED at Great Brays in Harlow, this two bedroom property maximises the natural light and space to create a charming home.

On the ground floor are a study, lounge, kitchen and conservatory. The kitchen has a door leading into the conservatory which in turn opens out onto the garden.

Upstairs are the two bedrooms and a good size family bathroom. The back garden has two paved patio areas and is enclosed by wooden fencing with an outside tap, timber garden shed.

Call Genesis Property Services on (01279) 422422 to arrange an appointment to view.

Available for £254,995

THIS detached property is in a cul de sac location in Church Langley and has a driveway with parking for up to three vehicles as well as a garage.

The good size lounge has a bay window to the front aspect and the fitted kitchen/diner looks out over the back of the house.

There are three bedrooms, one with en suite, and the bathroom has been re-fitted.

The rear garden is a manageable size.

To arrange an appointment to view contact Kings Group in Church Langley on (01279) 410084.

REVIEW

Kings were amazing, they kept us informed every step of the way. We had 3 people in the chain but Craig was brilliant, first class. He went over and above to help the sale go through and communicated with the whole chain. It was really refreshing to deal with an estate agent that really cares.

A HASSLE FREE MOVE WITH BARRATT

Looking to move up but struggling to sell your current property? Well you are not alone and in fact thousands of homeowners who purchased their property in the last 4 to 5 years are struggling to finance their next move. The good news is that help is at hand for those looking to move into a brand new home in Harlow, thanks to Barratt Homes' popular Part Exchange scheme.

In order to help you make the move, Barratt will actually buy your property directly from you allowing you to make a move into a brand new home at one of its developments throughout the northern Home Counties. The sale is based on two independent valuations to ensure that you get 100% market value for your property. As well as making additional savings on marketing fees, the scheme means that there is no chance of a chain collapsing, so the whole process should be much more stress-free. Not only does Part Exchange make it possible for you to get moving, for a limited time only the housebuilder is providing a special FREE MOVE service that will cover all your packing, moving and unpacking costs. If you reserve your new Barratt Homes property before October 31st, not only could you make thousands of pounds of cost savings, but you will be settled into your new family home by Christmas.

Gary Ennis, Southern Regional Managing Director for Barratt Developments comments: "This is a fantastic opportunity to make that all important move into a spacious family home now at minimal cost to the homebuyer. Not only do we buy your property directly from you at a fair market price, we will pay for your entire move – helping you save literally thousands of pounds. We have a superb range of new homes developments available across the area and we offer a variety of properties to suit every type of housebuyer."

Fifth Avenue is sought after in Harlow and popular with its residents like Mr & Mrs Ahmed who said:

"The rooms in our house are all good sizes and we now have a big garden which our son loves. Fifth Avenue is in a great location and has some good local schools. Our new house really is a dream come true and we couldn't have wished for more."

To find out how you could be joining the new community at Fifth Avenue, please call our sales centre now on 01279 641168. You could be living here sooner than you think.

Something of a Mini miracle

BY MATT JOY

IN the space of a decade, BMW has achieved something many thought impossible.

Since 2001 its Mini range has clocked up two million sales and is available in 90 markets around the world. Not bad for something cynics thought would be a fashion flash in the pan.

Part of that success can be attributed to the regular introduction of new bodystyles. The original three-door hatch spawned a convertible, then a 'mini' estate and more recently a full four-seat compact SUV, the Countryman.

You can now add a two-seat coupe to the list, a variant Mini executives hope will attract buyers seeking a more focused and sporty experience. Its arrival also positions the Coupe alongside the likes of Peugeot's popular RCZ coupe, a car that's done wonder for its maker's image.

The Mini Coupe performs its duties as a halo model for the rest of the range with aplomb. Its heavily raked windscreen and low-slung profile is the most dramatic look yet for a Mini. Although width and length dimensions are near identical to the hatch, the Coupe's height is 29mm lower. And, thanks to its equally rakish rear screen,

| FACTfile | |
|-------------------------------------|---|
| Mini John Cooper Works Coupe | PRICE from £23,795 on the road |
| Engine: | 1.6-litre petrol unit developing 211bhp |
| Transmission: | six-speed manual transmission as standard, driving the front wheels |
| Performance: | Maximum speed 149mph / 0-62mph 6.4 seconds |
| Economy: | 39.8mpg |
| CO₂ Rating: | 165g/km |

you're left in no doubt that the Coupe is a strict two-seater. Fear not on the practicality front, though. With a hatchback tailgate that opens to reveal a maximum volume of 280 litres plus a through-load slot into the cabin, it's on par with the estate-like Clubman. Up front there's the usual oddment spaces you'll find in any Mini.

Along with its looks, the Mini Coupe has been designed to behave a little different on the road. With its firmer suspension set up, the Coupe has been designed to deliver a more focused experience for the keen driver. As such, there's noticeably less roll through corners and there's a greater willingness to change direction. Thankfully such changes haven't resulted in a reduction in the quality of the car's ride.

Yes, it's a bit stiffer than a regular three-door hatch, but you get to keep your fillings at the end of a journey. The trade-off is a more chuckable and engaging drive, which is what you'd expect from a two-seat coupe.

Reinforcing the car's sporty character is an engine line-up comprised of Mini's more powerful diesel and petrol units. There's no One or One D here, as the Coupe range starts with the familiar Cooper badge and its 122 horsepower offering. The Cooper S shares the Cooper's 1.6 petrol unit but adds a turbo to produce 184 horsepower, while the John Cooper Works variant's output from the same motor is a heady 211 horsepower.

Diesel fans can opt for the Cooper SD, which boasts a 2.0-litre turbo unit outputting 143 horsepower. It also offers the lowest emissions and economy performance – 114g/km and 65.7mpg respectively.

But which is the best in the real world? All the engines have proven themselves in other Mini variants, most recently the diesel in hatch, convertible and Countryman models. There's no question that the combination of wallet-friendly economy, 143 horsepower and a substantial 225lb/ft torque make for relaxed yet brisk performance.

Overtaking is quick and safe and there's enough low down grunt to make the traffic light grand prix entertaining.

The diesel's trademark growl when pushed hard is also appealing, but if you want the performance to match the Coupe's looks then it has to be the full 211 horsepower, John Cooper Works experience. Rapid replaces brisk when describing its performance, while the diesel's growl has been elbowed out of the way by a more impatient-sounding howl.

Like the diesel variant you need to exercise some restraint in the wet if you don't want to light up the front tyres at every junction, but in the dry the car changes direction quickly and the urgency of its engine note encourages you to pedal a little faster on familiar roads. Factor in a surprisingly compliant ride despite its sporty character and a short, slick manual gearshift and the Coupe experience easily becomes a fun one.

Part of that fun comes before you've even signed the cheque. With a plethora of options to help customise your purchase, Mini offers everything from colour-coded cabin trim, sat-nav, sports seats and different wheel designs to suede-trimmed steering wheels and contrasting body stripes.

Back in 2001 few industry watchers had high hopes for the longevity of the Mini brand. From a single three-door hatchback the range has evolved into a family of cars complete with their own personalities. The Coupe is proof that there's plenty of life left in the brand, and its own sporty personality is genuine and infectious.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Essex County Council

(Velizy Avenue, Harlow) (Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2011

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council intends, not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make the above Order under section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close the slip road on Velizy Avenue, Harlow, from its junction with the subway car park entrance, to the college car park entrance, a distance of approximately 48 metres.

The closure is scheduled to commence on 24 October 2011 for 5 weeks, weather permitting, or where appropriate signs are showing, and is required for the safety of the public and workforce while the pedestrian crossing is closed for upgrade and refurbishment and a temporary walkway is constructed.

Access for emergency vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure. There will be no alternative route as a temporary access road into the college will be provided. The bus lane on the southbound carriageway of Velizy Avenue, from the college car park exit slip, generally southeast, for a distance of approximately 198 metres (to the temporary college entrance) shall be temporarily suspended. The bus lane is suspended to allow access to the temporary college entrance.

The Order will come into effect on 24 October 2011 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

(Commonside Road And Rundells, Harlow) (Temporary Prohibition Of Traffic) Order 2011

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council intends, not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make the above Order under section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close the following lengths of road in Harlow:

| Phase | Road Name | Description | Date and Duration of Closure | Alternative Route |
|-------|-----------------|--|--|--|
| 1 | Rundells | From the entrance of the garage area at the rear of properties 317 to 326, north, to its eastern junction with Commonside Road, a distance of approximately 75 metres. | 26 October 2011 until 22 December 2011 | Rundells, Commonside Road and vice versa. |
| 2 | Commonside Road | From its eastern junction with Rundells, west, to its junction with Monksbury. | 9 January 2012 until 16 March 2012 | Tysea Road, A1169 Southern Way, Trotters Road and vice versa. Residents will be diverted around the Rundells loop. |

The closures are scheduled to commence on the above dates and times, weather permitting, or where appropriate signs are showing, and are required for the safety of the public and workforce while construction of a surface water pipeline is undertaken to alleviate flooding in the area.

Access for emergency vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closures.

The Order will come into effect on 26 October 2011 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

OLD VIOLIN WANTED

STAR SPORT PAYS TRIBUTE TO TOP HARLOW CRICKETER DANNY WILSON

By DAVID RIMMER
david.rimmer@hertssexnews.co.uk

DANNY Wilson, from Old Harlow, has lit up the past summer with his deeds with the bat for Sawbridgeworth Cricket Club.

He scored a phenomenal 949 league runs for Sawbridgeworth in division two east of the Home Counties Premier League (HCPL), overtaking the previous club record of 915 set by Australia overseas star Graham Hanlon in 1995.

The cricketer is simply a joy to watch when in his pomp.

He deserves all the accolades that are bestowed. He has been a dominant figure for Sawbridgeworth and has also played for Essex County Cricket Club, Farnham and Cambridge Granta.

From 2004, Wilson skipped Sawbridgeworth until the end of the 2009 season and his consistent displays have been one of the main reasons why Sawbridgeworth have had so much stability and remained in division two east for such a long time.

Also a slick slip fielder, Wilson is the son of Seventies band Hot Chocolate guitarist Tony Wilson.

He went to secondary school at Bishop's Stortford's St Mary's Catholic School and started playing for his first club, Farnham, at 9-years-old.

His batting has come to the fore more since he moved up from the middle order halfway through the 2005 season to open the batting.

This was a key moment as he averaged almost 60 in the last 10 league matches of 2005.

An excellent tactician, Sawbridgeworth had their best league season under his captaincy when they finished runners-up in 2005.

Wilson, who also had a spell in professional cricket with Essex County Cricket Club, can still get the odd wicket or two, but it is likely his skill with the willow will continue to play more of a role in the future.

His batting style is compelling with his leg side play accomplished, but he can be conservative if the situation demands it.

For this observer although it is important to remain impartial when covering matches, my disappointment is poignant on the rare occasions that Wilson's wicket is taken early.

The chance to see real talent and class prevail has gone for the day.

Wilson's individual performances have led to many a victory, but there also have been magnificent knocks in defeat or draws.

To pay tribute to arguably the best batsman in the region over the last seven years or so, former Star sports reporter Richard White – the scorer at Sawbridgeworth Cricket Club – and myself have compiled our 10 most memorable games from Wilson's Town Fields career.

The fact that none of the four league centuries he made this year receives a mention, illustrates the sheer volume of top displays we've had to choose from in Wilson's career (innings in chronological order).

1. v Welwyn Garden City: Herts League premier division, August 9 1997

Wilson made his maiden hundred in this match, but his unbeaten knock of Willow beauty!

111 could not prevent Sawbridgeworth from losing by seven wickets.

Only two other Sawbridgeworth batsmen – Dave Burrell (21) and Ted Levey (15) – reached double figures in this match.

2. v Knebworth Park: Herts League premier division, May 2 1998

In the opening game of the season, Wilson's prowess with the ball immediately stood out.

He took an outstanding six wickets for 14 runs as Knebworth were bowled out for just 76.

This remains his best bowling figures for Sawbridgeworth. Sawbridgeworth went on to win by 111 runs.

3. v St Margaretsbury: Becker Transport Cup AKA Herts County Cup fourth round, July 13 2003

This county cup competition had more prestige than now and Wilson made up for missing Sawbridgeworth's thumping third-round win over Hoddesdon.

Batting first, St Margaretsbury were well placed on 81-1 in 20 overs.

However, the match was turned on its head. Wilson (4-34), with support from Dave Burrell, helped bowl out the Saints for just 147.

In reply, Wilson struck a rapid 53 as Sawbridgeworth won by six wickets, knocking off the target with more than 20 overs to spare.

4. v Radlett: Becker Transport Cup final, August 31 2003

Underdogs Sawbridgeworth upset the formbook when they beat Radlett by

HOWZAT: Danny Wilson points to the Sawbridgeworth scoreboard which marks the phenomenal 949 runs he scored in the Home Counties Premier League division two east this year (HSP0771880) seven wickets with 8.5 overs to spare. Much attention was heaped on Daniel Hull (78 not out) and Nick Walker (102 not out) for their unbroken match-winning fourth-wicket stand of 167.

However, just as crucial was Wilson's bowling. He took 4-26 and this was crucial in ensuring Radlett did not set a huge score.

Although Sawbridgeworth reached their target comfortably in the end, psychology plays a big part in cricket and if they had been faced with a target of 270, Sawbridgeworth may have faltered.

5. v Hainault & Clayhall: Evening Standard Challenge Trophy 2nd rnd, June 19 2005

This ended in an extremely narrow defeat for Sawbridgeworth (270-9) as they lost by just one wicket to Hainault (274-9) off the game's last ball.

In sweltering hot conditions, Wilson struck 86 not out off just 54 balls before later claiming 2-40 from 10 overs and taking two catches.

6. v Welwyn Garden City: HCPL division two east September 2 2006

A bizarre rain-affected low-scoring game saw Sawbridgeworth (77) beat Welwyn Garden City (72) by five runs to avoid relegation – and deny their opponents promotion.

Wilson made a joint top score of 16 with Rob Marshall in a game where the bowlers dominated.

However, it was a brilliant one-handed catch by Wilson and his cool captaincy skills which were key, as well as left-arm spinner Ryan Cunningham (5-31) and medium pacer Hull (4-27).

7. v Millhillians HCPL division two east August 25 2007

Sawbridgeworth beat 10-man Old Millhillians by 69 runs on a wet wicket.

Wilson scored 100 not out and it was one of his best ever knocks as he mastered the conditions superbly. Although Sawbridgeworth's bowlers did well, Wilson's knock was the key.

8. v Bishop's Stortford: Herts County Cup second round July 20 2008

Wilson's 129 not out was the second of three consecutive centuries he made in the competition that year. This was ranked by Wilson as his best century for Sawbridgeworth and he was certainly in the zone that day from the moment he dispatched his first ball for four.

He played Aussie paceman Darren Whittingham particularly well and his strokeplay that day was simply Victory was sweet as Sawbridgeworth (220-1) beat their closest rivals by nine wickets. Stortford were bowled out for 219.

Sawbridgeworth went on to reach the final where they lost by four wickets against Welwyn Garden City.

9. v Totteridge Millhillians: Herts County Cup second round July 5 2009

Wilson held Sawbridgeworth's innings together against an attack that included former England off-spinner Peter Such.

Wilson's technique in playing Such that day was an object lesson in how to play spin.

Unlike the majority of club players who would have panicked and jabbed at the ball, he played him calmly with soft hands.

He made 126, sharing a club record fifth-wicket partnership of 161 with teenager Charlie Mann (54).

This was crucial as Sawbo were tottering on 80-4 when Mann joined Wilson.

Sawbridgeworth won by 104 runs. Wilson also took two wickets.

10. v St Albans: HCPL division two east June 26 2010

An excellent all-round performance from Wilson (66 runs and 5-30) saw Sawbridgeworth (205-5) beat St Albans (153) by 52 runs.

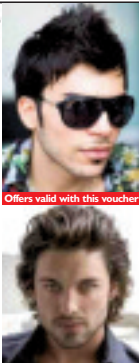

In doing so, Wilson became only the sixth Sawbridgeworth player since 1984 to score a fifty and take five wickets in the same league game.

The match saw Charlie Rudkin make 83, sharing an opening stand of 128 with Wilson.

Harlow hold out for win

A RESHUFFLED Harlow side showed resilience as they won away against a physical Waltham Forest II side.

With midfielder Ben Light back at university and two forwards out, goalkeeper Shaun Hastler found himself on the left wing. Coach Richard Norris took over Hastler's berth.

The game's only goal on Saturday came after 19 minutes. Craig Cholerton scored after another direct run and pinpoint finish in the far corner.

Shortly after, an Adam Ottley shot hit the home woodwork.

On 25 minutes, Harlow went down to 10 men for five minutes. Captain Luke Krzoska sustained a minor cut from a Waltham stray pass.

Norris made a great double save from a penalty corner to keep Harlow ahead.

Second-half action saw Harlow's Dean Grace make a great block to thwart a dangerous Forest attack.

■ THERE was little to stir the pulse as Harlow ladies drew 0-0 at Old De Ferrians in the premier division of the Essex Women's League.

Both sides failed to convert two opportunities in the first half, with Emma Tweddle and Carolyn Welsford having shots well blocked by the home keeper.

Petra Trimble snuffed out the hosts' attacking threat in the second half and passed well.

Chapman seeks change after third loss in four

HAWKS boss Danny Chapman is looking for a vast improvement from his side at Leiston this Saturday.

Harlow Town were poor in defeat at home to Maldon and Tiptree. It was their third loss in four games and, although they are fifth, they do not look like play-off candidates based on Tuesday's showing.

Harlow Town 1, Maldon & Tiptree 2
Ryman League, div one north

Chapman said: "We've got to have a reaction [on Saturday]. One or two players aren't pulling their weight. If it doesn't improve things will have to change."

The hosts went ahead in the seventh minute. Piers Wixon swivelled and drilled home a low Jon Docker corner from the right before Maldon could react.

The visitors equalised in the 13th minute when an unmarked James Lawson nodded home Kevin McCleod's cross from the right.

The danger signs were there for Harlow as Maldon wasted two good openings in the first half. On 65 minutes, Michael Deane wasted a golden opportunity on the left-hand side of the box when he fired wide of the near post instead of shooting across into the far corner.

The visitors' winner came four minutes later. A Dave Collins cross from the left was nodded home powerfully by former Harlow Town striker Sosthene Yao at the near post.

There was no way back for Harlow, who lacked the discipline and craft to break down Maldon's obdurate defence.

Chapman added: "They wanted it more than us. We lacked desire. I feel more sorry for the supporters. They deserved more and the players let themselves down more than anybody."

Harlow face Bury Town away in the second round of the League Cup on Tuesday.

EYEING THE LINE: Harlow's No 8 Paul Eynon breaks and barges his way over for a try (HSP0775791)

There's no Holt-ing rampant Rams!

HARLOW made it five wins out of five with a hard-earned win over Norwich at Ram Gorse.

The Rams are second and will face a big test of their credentials when they travel to leaders Holt in nine days in their next game.

Harlow went ahead against Norwich in textbook fashion on seven minutes. The ball was passed down the line before full back Rob Mackie came into the line in midfield at full pace. He split the Norwich defence before committing the full back and passing to winger Vernez Kotze, who scored the try. Michael Dobson kicked the conversion. Norwich kicked a 20th-minute penalty before Dobson narrowly missed a penalty. Harlow led 7-3 at half-time.

Norwich closed Harlow's lead to a point with a 55th-minute penalty.

Controlled play in the loose from the home forwards set up No 8 Paul Eynon to drive over for an unconverted 65th-minute try and the hosts led 12-6.

With five minutes left, a Norwich wing broke well but Mackie and Eynon spotted the danger and stopped him 10m from the home line.

Harlow's senior coach, Lee

Harron, who replaced the injured Rhys Powell at scrum-half, said: "We defended reasonably all over the pitch but can play a lot better. It's good that we're winning close games, which we haven't done in recent seasons."

HARLOW: Mackie, Kotze, L Bowering, Vanbeck (Heapy 65), Grimley, Dobson, Harron, Roze, Wilkins, Stonehouse (Prindville 65), Twiner, Palmer (Hawkin 65), Roberts (capt), M Bowering, Eynon.

■ HARLOW ladies won 24-7 at Chesham in the National Challenge South East division one north. The visitors scored four tries through Sarah Stimpson (2), Davina McLellan and Rebecca Conway, who also kicked two conversions.

Defeat no laughing matter

HARLOW Hawks were unable to capitalise on an excellent start and slumped to a home defeat against Ware Jokers in their opening National Founders Cup group game.

Hawks started well on Saturday and Russ Allan bagged eight points as they went into the second quarter 21-11 ahead. This saw them score 12 swift points before sloppy passing led to turnovers and the Jokers hit 17 unanswered points. Harlow led 35-29 at half-way.

Both sides then struggled to find fluency and Hawks led 44-40 going into the last quarter.

Jokers went five points ahead with five minutes left before their lead was cut to a point with two minutes remaining.

Poor decisions by Hawks, along with some missed shots, saw Jokers win by seven points.

Harlow Hawks host Michaelians in a Herts County Cup group A game tomorrow (tip-off 8.30pm).

HARLOW HAWKS: Allan (14pts), S Atkinson (10), L Atkinson (9), S Niaz (6), Moss (5), Spashett (3), Jones (2), Z Niaz (2), Oyeride (2), Burgess (2), Ball (2), Jackson. OTHER RESULT: Herts Lge div 1 - Circus Raiders 96, Harlow Hawks 63.
